

Discovery

A Newsletter from the Office of the Associate Dean for Research and Scholarship

Grant Writing Workshop Conference

(Ongoing from April to October)

The School of Nursing Research Collaborative group, along with the Dissertation Coach, will host a Grant Writing Workshop Conference over a six-month period from April to October this year. Three sessions will be in person and three sessions will be by Zoom. Faculty will also have an opportunity to meet individually with the workshop instructors for more in depth guidance. The goal of the conference is to gain an understanding of how to submit a small grant. Instructors will provide detailed presentations along with specific exercises and facilitated discussions designed to cover the grant seeking and grant writing process. Dates and topics for future sessions are listed below.

Rowena A. Robles, PhD

The Dissertation Coach
— GET TO THE FINISH LINE —

- Session 1 – Tuesday, April 23rd – In Person: Overview and Major Components of Grant Writing
- Session 2 – Tuesday, May 14th – Zoom: Aims and Components of Grant Proposals
- Session 3 – Wednesday, June 5th – In Person: Developing Your Research Grant Proposal Further
- Session 4 – Tuesday, July 16th – Zoom: Grant Proposal Budget Basics and Supporting Documents; Understanding the Perspective of Grant Reviewers
- Break for August
- Session 5 – Wednesday, September 11th – Zoom: Moving Towards Finalizing Your Grant Proposals
- Session 6 – Thursday, October 17th – In Person: Pulling the Grant Together/Pulling it All Together